"Sharing European Geographic Data"

Tuesday, April 20, 2010

Teatro della Gioventù, Via Cesarea 14

Genoa

On April 20, 2010 the Italian Regions' bodies and cartographic Institutions will meet in Genoa for a Workshop organised by "GIS4EU" Project (Provision of Interoperable datasets to open GI to EU communities).

Aim of the workshop is to present to the Italian context the last results of GIS4EU project activities and point out the operational applicability of INSPIRE Directive.

The workshop intends to compare the experiences developed by the different Italian Regions, about the activity of publishing and sharing the geographic data, in particular using the web standard services (WFS, WMS).

In addition, the recent publication of the decree establishing the infrastructure for the INSPIRE EU spatial information will definitely offer occasions for debates and discussions.

The event will be held in Italian and it is free of charge but, due to organisational reasons, you should register at the following address.
